
We Can Move Mountains.

Garbage is a growing problem here in B.C. Not everyone understands that we can't make something go away by throwing it out – and recycling can only do so much.

Yet a growing number of people do appreciate how little time and effort it takes to reduce the waste they create and dispose of each day.

With a bit of planning and common sense, you'll be amazed by the results. For example, packaging takes up over 30% of our landfill. By avoiding over-packaged goods you won't create unnecessary garbage. And by composting, you can reduce your kitchen and yard waste by 34%!

If everyone in B.C. reduced their household waste simply by avoiding over-packaged products and composting, just imagine the impact on the environment! Support our provincial goal of 50% less disposable waste per individual by the year 2000.

How green is your home? Check off the items on the lists in this brochure and find out how green your home is and how green it can be.

If we reduce, reuse and recycle, B.C. will lose some mountains it definitely doesn't need.
