

Hello from worm land! And a very happy Valentines day for all you romantic wormers out there. Hopefully your worm beds have stayed warm and cozy over the winter, and are ready for spring to finally come.

A Heart or Not?

Do worms have a heart to love with this Valentines Day? You bet! All of these hearts pump blood through blood vessels just like your one heart!

True or false??

1. Baby worms are born from their mothers like humans.
2. If you cut a worm in half, it will make two worms.
3. Worms can eat their weight each day
4. The earthworm has teeny tiny lungs to breathe with.
5. Worms are a gardener's best friend.
