

REAPS READER

Have you helped the environment today?

The Holidays are coming. Here are some creative and fun gifts to make for you r friends and family.

~Put your gift into a reusable container that can be used again. You do not have to go buy one either. Find a can, jar or box and decorate it with scrap paper found around your home. Then after they have opened your gift they can use it to hold things like pencils.

~Wrap your gift in newspaper that you already have. Want to add some colour? Get your pencil crayons and colour it or use the Sunday comics.

~Bake or make something. Another idea for the person who has everything is to make them something sweet or to make something out of all that art supplies you got last year. You can also make vouchers for some chores around the house. Give it to them in a reusable container.

~Not sure what to get someone. Why not donate money to their favourite charity. You can give them a certificate instead showing where the money went.

~If you use a real tree drop it off at the landfill or at the CN Centre in early January for chipping and composting.

~ Don't forget to recycle all your Christmas wrappings, boxes and gift bags.

~ Save the Christmas cards for making decorations for the tree or gift tags for the next year

~ Save your old light bulbs to paint and make decorations with.

~ String some popcorn and cranberries for your bird friends too!

In partnership with Science World's Scientist and Innovators in the School (SIS) program, REAPS school program is supported by the Program for the Awareness and Learning of Science (BC PALS) thanks to the province of British Columbia through the Ministry of Education.